

“A Symphony of Lights” enhanced with rooftop pyrotechnic displays on both sides of Victoria Harbour for the first time

The Tourism Commission announces today (April 26) that to complement the coming Labour Day Golden Week, “A Symphony of Lights” will, for the first time, be enhanced with rooftop pyrotechnic displays on both sides of the Victoria Harbour on May 1 and 5 (Tuesday and Saturday).

On previous occasions, rooftop pyrotechnic displays were only displayed on Hong Kong Island. The impending two displays to be staged during the Labour Day Golden Week will, for the first time, be extended to cover buildings on Kowloon side. The best vantage points for viewing “A Symphony of Lights” include the promenade at Golden Bauhinia Square in Wanchai, as well as Tsim Sha Tsui waterfront from the Avenue of Stars to the Hong Kong Cultural Centre. Public address systems have been set up at the above vantage points to broadcast the synchronized soundtrack during show time.

Starting from 1 May 2007, Standard Chartered Bank Building and Bank of America Tower on Hong Kong Island as well as Harbour City and Oterprise Square in Tsim Sha Tsui, Kowloon will join “A Symphony of Lights”, thereby further enriching the content of our “World’s Largest Permanent Light and Sound Show” on Guinness World Records.

Apart from on-site broadcast of the soundtrack, spectators may also listen to the synchronized soundtrack via radio by tuning in to FM 103.4 MHz (English), FM 106.8 MHz (Cantonese) or FM 107.9 MHz (Putonghua); or via their mobile phones by dialing 35-665-665 (English) or 35-665-668 (Putonghua).
